

Three cows and a
DE LAVAL
CREAM SEPARATOR will make more money than four cows with gravity setting

If you are selling cream or making butter, and have no separator, or else an inferior machine, we know if we could put a De Laval on your place we would be doing you a personal favor.

If you haven't a separator don't make the mistake of starting with a "cheap" or inferior machine. When you do buy a separator—as soon or later you surely will—be sure to get the best—the De Laval. Remember, you can't make money by trying to save money in the purchase price of a cream separator. A De Laval costs only a little more than the cheapest and will save you twice as much and last five to ten times as long as other separators.

WILLINGNESS TO OBLIGE

THE public has a right to something more than perfunctory service from those who supply its telephone needs.

There is something more to a telephone service than merely placing at the disposal of the public adequate telephone equipment.

Courtesy, willingness to oblige and patience, under trying conditions on the part of telephone employees, promote friendly feeling and are essential to the best kind of telephone service.

100-acre farm with 5-room house, barn 60x100 feet, will store 75 ton hay, granary, corn crib, will stall 30 head of cows; fruits of all kind, 90 acres in cultivation, never-failing springs. This farm is the best stock and dairy farm in the county, on the gravel road. Might consider some town property in part exchange. For prices and terms, apply "Farmer" care of Tribune.

COUNTY NOTES. C. M. McWilliams, Farm Adviser.

The several men in the county who tried to kill wild garlic by spraying it with crude oil were not at all certain of success when they tried it. It is yet too soon to say definitely, but results thus far are satisfactory. The plants seem to be dead or dying. The oil penetrates from the stem to the bulb and causes it to turn black and decay. The best time for spraying is said to be when the plants get into full growth and just before the buttons are formed. Crude oil or orchard heating oil, as it is sometimes called, is crude kerosene just as it comes from the oil wells without any refining. It may be had from any dealer and is not expensive. The oil is detrimental to other vegetation too; this, however, is a small matter if it will kill the garlic. More time to watch results is needed before a positive statement can

CHEER UP!

WISCONSIN STATE JOURNAL

Bug Eats Smoke.

In a recent informal discussion of smelting and its troubles, an expert spoke of the "sulphur bug," an insect, which, according to his statement, thrives with plenty of sulphur smoke, and has a remarkable knack of getting on the back of the smelter's neck when both his hands are occupied. Another smelter said he had noted them in California, where they had annoyed the Shasta county operators, but had not been known elsewhere in the state until Shasta county ores were shipped to San Francisco bay points, when they had appeared there. Apparently no entomologist has yet passed on the genus and species of this insect.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

Accomplishment Missing.

"Your boy has all sorts of athletic training," "Yes," replied Farmer Cornetson. "But there's one line o' physical culture he has missed. I wish I could send him to some gymnasium where he could learn to swing a scythe without lookin' like he was goin' to cut off both his feet."

Why They Take 'Em.

Skids—We are off to spend a nice quiet holiday in the mountains. Skittles—Why the gramophone and banjo? Skids—Oh, they're just to break the damned stillness of the evenings.—Puck.

be vouched for.

There are several small crops of vetch in the county this year; two of them I have recently seen. Mr. H. C. Neumeyer, who lives south of Tilsit, has perhaps an acre and a half of vetch and rye. He is now, and has been for sometime using it as a soiling crop for young cattle, milking cows, and horses. It has made a good growth and he expresses himself as well pleased with it and plans to sow a much larger acreage this summer. Where the vetch and rye was cut earlier in the season the vetch is coming on again. An examination showed the roots of the plants to be studded with nitrogen producing nodules.

Mr. James H. Fullerton of Cape Girardeau also has three or four acres of vetch and winter oats. A great many of the oat plants did not survive the winter, but the vetch is flourishing and will produce a good hay crop. Mr. Fullerton has grown vetch several times and is pleased with it.

Mr. L. B. Johnson of the Normal School has advocated a more general use of this crop for sometime and there is no doubt about it being a profitable and satisfactory crop.

The principal portion of the alfalfa in the county has been cut for the first time; the remainder is ready to cut. The new shoots at the crown of the plant are signs to use; when they make their appearance generally over the field it is time to cut. In the past it has been said that the bloom was a reliable indication, but the best authorities do not now hold that opinion. This past week the writer saw the field of Mr. John Lehtnegger, of Pocahontas. The soil was well prepared, limed and seeded last fall. He says that his first crop will repay him for the time and money expended on it.

The experience of last season emphasized the fact that alfalfa seed bed should be well prepared and the seed sown early, preferably about August 15th. Late sowings have a tendency to freeze out during the winter.

The Campster School Farm Club will hold their regular meeting the first Monday evening in June.

Indications are present that three solid concrete silos will be erected here this season. One at Allenville, and two near Oak Ridge. The Dairy Department of the College of Agriculture has promised to send a man to superintend the construction. This will be without cost to the builders and should eliminate any costly mistakes that might otherwise be made.

A recent letter from Dr. D. E. Luckey, State Veterinarian, says that he will co-operate with us in the control of hog cholera. All dead hogs must be burned on the premises where they died. Failure to do so is punishable by a heavy fine. Dr. Crites of Jackson is Deputy State Veterinarian and complaints should be addressed to him. The whole county considered, there is very little cholera at present and this condition can be maintained throughout the season if the proper precautions are taken.

Once again the beneficial effects of disking before plowing is apparent. The practice is quite general, but not to as great an extent as it deserves to be. Last week two fields were noticed; they were both being plowed for peas. The first field had been well disched and the plowman was able to plow deep, his horses were standing the work well and the soil was crumbly and contained an abundance of moisture. A single harrowing after the plow put the field in excellent condition. The other fellow did not seem to be enjoying life to any great extent; his team was pretty well fagged; his plow had an aggravating habit of bouncing out of the ground every little while and he was frequently turning up chunks as large as an ordinary water bucket. The owner said it looked like he would be compelled to quit; he could not prepare a decent seed bed until it rained anyway.

The illustration is not overdrawn and does not exaggerate the difference between disked and undisked fields in a dry time.

DEATH OF MARIE BAUER

Little Daughter of Well Known Baker Dies Wednesday Morning

Marie Kathryn Bauer the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bauer, died Wednesday morning at the Bauer home on Broadway, after an illness lasting six weeks. The baby was eight months old, and for some time has been battling for its little life. About ten days ago she was put in the crib for her regular nap, and from that time until her death, in spite of every effort on the part of the doctors and parents, she could not be awakened, only for a few minutes at a time. The case was a puzzling one to the attending physicians, but it is thought that death was due to teething. The funeral will take place Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's Church, Rev. Father E. Prunette conducting the services, and the burial will be in the Catholic Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Bauer have many friends who offer their deepest sympathies in their present bereavement.

ART POTRAYAL CO. DAYTON, OHIO.

At the Common Pleas Court this morning the case of Mrs. E. Kelly vs. D. A. Nichols was brought up before Judge Ranney and dismissed on petition of defendant having been charged with the same offense in the Circuit Court which was still on record at the time of this suit. The Court overruled the plaintiff. The plaintiff files a new motion for a hearing of the case which was granted. The plaintiff was the first witness.
